David Michael Curtis has dedicated more than three decades to the intensive, topical study of the King James Bible. His work is not the product of a sudden idea but the culmination of a lifelong journey. Driven by a relentless passion for the Scriptures, he wore through the bindings of eleven leather-bound KJV Thompson Chain-Reference Bibles during his first seven years of study. This deep dedication has been the driving force behind a lifetime of ministry, from teaching the Bible on the radio and serving as a volunteer chaplain in a maximum-security prison to developing his unique KJV Topical Bible Study Method.

His multi-volume series, encompassing both theological works and novels, is built upon a meticulously documented five-year archival project (2020-2025) that preserves a lifetime of work. When you read David's books, you access a lifetime of disciplined, verse-by-verse analysis designed to let the Word of God speak for itself.

Mr. David Michael Curtis's books on Kindle and Audible features several major series:

- The 1st Century House Churches Saga (13 Novels)
- The 21st Century House Churches Series (13 Novels)

The Garden Enclosed: A Slow-Burn, High-Heat Christian Romance Series

Available on Archive.org

(Free: No Email Signup, Anonymous Download)

This groundbreaking four-book Christian romance series pioneers a completely new subgenre never before charted in human history. It delivers truly adult erotica while strictly maintaining that couples wait for marriage before sexual intercourse. By masterfully blending breathtaking, high-heat sensual intimacy with absolute holy restraint, these novels uniquely shatter both the rigidness of conservative Christian purity culture and the toxicity of the secular world's hookup culture:

Series Introduction: A New Era of Intimacy

Welcome to a new frontier in Christian books. For years, men and women have been forced to walk through a modern wasteland, handed the wrong maps for dating and marriage. You have likely seen two dangerous paths: the strict rules that treat all touch as shameful, or the hookup culture that takes the honor out of love. This series walks a path that has never been shown before. It blends deep, burning closeness with holy self-control.

Many couples spend thousands of dollars and many hours seeking marriage help. They often sit in cold rooms and hear plain, dry advice from guides who do not see the God-given way our bodies work. The usual ways of helping couples often miss the pain of needing touch and the biblical command to care for one another.

When you read this work, you step away from the cold feel of an office. This work is a gift. It costs nothing. Yet, this is not just reading for fun. It will change how you look at yourself, your partner, and your bonds with others forever. It took months to write and pulls from years of work helping couples. Please do not miss out on what it offers. You get a full path to follow at your own speed. You are walking into a safe place. Here, behind closed doors, you can heal, learn, and grow in peace.

The base of this journey is the guidebook, The Garden Enclosed: A Guide to Marriage Intimacy, which means the deep, private closeness shared in marriage. It lays out the old, holy, and natural ways of human touch. It teaches the lost art of the long, loving massage, showing how gentle touch can calm a hungry soul.

The stories in this series show how that plan works in real life. Whether these characters face the stress of school, the pull of the nightlife, or the hard times of a long marriage, these stories show what it truly looks like to honor the borders God set.

You will see good men and true women practice holy self-control, waiting for the marriage bed before they share the final act of love. Yet you will also see the breathtaking truth of how adults can be close and still stay pure. Yes, men: it is not only okay to look at a woman and touch her, you should. It is a natural part of bonding with her.

In the modern age of dating, couples need physical closeness to grow, but they must do so without crossing the borders of her enclosed garden. These characters do not hide from their nature. They talk about their deepest needs and freely care for one another, showing that true passion needs the safety, trust, and lasting promise of marriage. In this series, the women remove their clothes and feel high heat, while the men remain clothed and practice holy self-control. Practicing this for months while dating prepares them for a lifetime of high-heat romance after marriage.

Read the guide to build the base. Read the stories to feel the fire. Welcome to the garden.

Pickup Lines

The Art of the Re-Woo: Flirting and First Impressions

Instructions for the Husband: This section is designed to break the ice and bring a spark of playfulness back into your conversation. Start with the "Icebreakers" to get her laughing (or rolling her eyes). Note her reaction—does she blush, laugh, or shake her head? Then, move into the "Deep Dive" questions to document her history with romance and attraction.

Part 1: The Icebreakers (Read these to her and record her reaction)

1. "I hope you know CPR, because you just took my breath away."

2. "If you were a vegetable, you would be a ‘cute-cumber.’"

3. "Are you a parking ticket? Because you have ‘fine’ written all over you."

4. "Do you happen to have a Band-Aid? Because I scraped my knees falling for you."

5. "I ought to complain to Spotify for not listing you as this week’s hottest single."

6. "If being sexy was a crime, you would be guilty as charged."

7. "Is it true what they say about the Bible? Philippians 4:8 says to think on whatsoever things are pure and whatsoever things are lovely… so I have been thinking about you all day long."

Part 2: The Deep Dive (Questions to ask her)

8. "Be honest: if I had walked up to you the first time we met and used one of those cheesy lines above, would you have walked away or laughed?"

9. "What is the absolute worst or funniest pick-up line someone has ever tried to use on you in the past?"

10. "If we were strangers meeting tonight for the very first time, what opening line or approach would genuinely capture your interest?"

11. "I never believed in love at first sight until I saw you. Do you believe love can happen in an instant, or does it always require time to grow?"

12. "I did not know what I wanted in a woman until I saw you. At what specific moment did you realize I might be the one for you?"

13."You have many beautiful curves, but your smile is my favorite. What is your favorite physical feature of yourself?"

14. "When I look in your eyes, I see a very kind soul. What do you see when you look into my eyes?"

15. "You are like a fine wine; the more of you I drink in, the better I feel. In what ways do you think you have improved or become more 'refined' as you have gotten older?"

16. "Are you as beautiful on the inside as you are on the outside? Tell me about a trait within your character that you are most proud of."

Comedy & Charisma: The Lighter Side of Affection

Instructions for the Husband: Every great biography needs moments of levity. This section tests her sense of humor. Your goal here is to deliver these lines with a mix of sincerity and theatrical "cheese." Record her specific reaction to each line—does she groan, giggle, or give you a witty comeback? Afterward, use the "Biographer's Interview" to transition from jokes to meaningful conversation.

Part 1: The "Cheesy" Test (Deliver these lines and record her reaction)

1. "I would like to take you to the movies, but they will not let me bring in my own snacks." (Point to her).

2. "You know what you would look really beautiful in? My arms."

3. "Are you a magician? It is the strangest thing, but every time I look at you, everyone else disappears."

4. "I would never play hide and seek with you because someone like you is impossible to find."

5. "I think there is something wrong with my phone. Could you try calling it to see if it works? I just wanted to hear your voice."

6. "Hi, I just wanted to thank you for the gift... I have been wearing this smile ever since you gave it to me."

7. "Are you an electrician? Because you are definitely lighting up my day."

8. "If you were a Transformer, you would be 'Optimus Fine.'"

9. "On a scale of 1 to America, how free are you tonight?"

10. "Is your name Google? Because you have everything I am searching for."

11. "If you were a taser, you would be set to 'stun.'"

12. "You know, they say that love is when you don’t want to sleep because reality is better than your dreams. After seeing you, I don’t think I want to sleep again."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

13. "That line about the 'language of love' is a classic. In all seriousness, how do you define the 'Language of Love'? Is it words, touch, acts of service, or something else entirely?"

14."I joked about happiness starting with 'U', but I want to know: What is your definition of a 'Happy Life' right now? Has that definition changed since your twenties?"

15. "I mentioned Disneyworld used to be the happiest place on Earth until I stood next to you. If you could snap your fingers and transport us to your personal 'happiest place' on the planet right now, where would we be?"

16. "If you were a song, you would be the best track on the album. If you had to pick one song that represents the 'soundtrack' of your life currently, what song would it be?"

17. "I joked about you running through my thoughts all night. But tell me, what actually keeps you up at night lately? Is it excitement for the future, or worries that I can help you carry?"

18. "I said I believe in following my dreams. If you could drop everything and follow a dream you have put on the shelf, what would you pursue?"

19. "Humor is a huge part of attraction. Who is the funniest person you have ever known, and what made them so memorable?"

Cheese & Charm: The Power of Playful Flattery

Instructions for the Husband: This section focuses on "dad joke" levels of romance. The goal is to make her smile through the sheer corniness of the delivery. Some of these lines in the original text were written for strangers ("I don't know your name"), so I have adapted them to fit a married couple ("I know your name..."). Use Part 1 to lighten the mood, then use Part 2 to transition into a meaningful discussion about beauty, time, and your shared history.

Part 1: The Charm Offensive (Deliver these lines and record her reaction)

1. "Your hand looks heavy—can I hold it for you?" (Reach out and take her hand).

2. "Do you know what my shirt is made of? Husband material."

3. "I thought this was our living room, but I must be in a museum because you are a piece of art."

4. "Are you a time traveler? Because I absolutely see you in my future."

5. "I can't tell if that was an earthquake, or if you just seriously rocked my world."

6. "If you were a fruit, you would be a 'fine-apple.'"

7. "If I had a nickel for every time I saw someone as beautiful as you, I would still only have five cents."

8. "In my opinion, there are three kinds of beautiful: Cute, pretty, and sexy. Somehow, you manage to be all three."

9. "What does it feel like to be the most gorgeous woman in the room?"

10. "If beauty were time, you would be eternity."

11. "I swear someone stole the stars from the sky and put them in your eyes."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

12. "I joked about you being a 'piece of art.' If you were a painting, what style would you be? A chaotic abstract, a peaceful landscape, or a classic portrait? Why?"

13. "I asked if you were a time traveler. If you actually had a time machine right now, would you go back to visit your past self, or jump forward to see what our future looks like?"

14."I mentioned that you 'rocked my world.' looking back at our relationship, what was one specific moment or event that completely shifted your perspective on life?"

15. "I said that your beauty is the least interesting thing about you. I truly believe that. But I want to know: What do you think is the most interesting thing about you that people often overlook?"

16. "I teased about my shirt being 'husband material.' In your opinion, what is the single most important quality that makes someone 'husband material'?"

17. "I asked to hold your hand because it looked heavy. What is a 'heavy' burden you are carrying right now that I can help you hold or handle this week?"

18. "We talked about meeting in dreams. Do you have recurring dreams? What is the most vivid dream you remember having recently?"

19. "I said there are three kinds of beauty: cute, pretty, and sexy. Which of those three words makes you feel the most confident when I say it to you?"

Adoration & Attention: The Daily Pursuit

Instructions for the Husband: It is easy to stop "chasing" once you have caught the prize. This section is about reminding her that she is still the one you want. These lines range from sweet to silly. Use them while you are making dinner, driving in the car, or getting ready for bed. Afterward, sit down for the "Biographer's Interview" to ask questions that explore her self-image, her style, and her heart.

Part 1: The Sweet Talk (Deliver these lines and record her reaction)

1. "I am not usually religious, but when I saw you, I knew you were the answer to my prayers."

2. "Wow, when God made you, He was seriously showing off."

3. "I'd say, 'God bless you,' but looking at you, it seems He already did."

4. "Excuse me, do you have the time? I just want to remember the exact minute I fell for you all over again."

5. "I am not a photographer, but I can definitely picture us together... forever."

6. "If I were a cat, I would want to spend all nine of my lives with you."

7. "You must be a master thief, because you managed to steal my heart all over again from across the room."

8. "There must be something wrong with my eyes—I can't seem to take them off of you."

9. "You know, I believe that honesty is the best policy, so to be perfectly honest, you are the sexiest woman I have ever seen."

10. "If you let me borrow a kiss, I promise I will give it right back."

11. "Kiss me if I'm wrong, but dinosaurs still exist, right?"

12. "I'm not currently an organ donor, but I'd be happy to give you my heart."

13. "(Hold out your hand) Hey, I'm going for a walk. Would you mind holding this for me?"

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

14. "I joked about you being the answer to my prayers. On a more serious note, what is the biggest prayer you have seen answered in your life so far?"

15."I said I could 'picture us together.' When you look at old photos of us, which single photo is your absolute favorite and why? What were we doing that day?"

16. "I mentioned that God was 'showing off' when He made you. What is one physical feature or personality trait you have that you truly love and thank God for?"

17. "I used a line about loving your style. How would you describe your personal style? Do you dress for comfort, for confidence, or to express how you feel that day?"

18. "I teased about spending nine lives with you. If you had one extra lifetime to live—where you could have a totally different career or live in a different country—what would you choose to do?"

19. "I asked for the time so I could remember when I fell for you. Can you pinpoint the exact moment or season in our relationship where you felt the most loved by me?"

20. "I joked about you stealing my heart. What is the most rebellious or 'out of character' thing you have ever done in your life?"

21. "I said I couldn't take my eyes off you. When you walk into a room, do you prefer to be noticed and the center of attention, or do you prefer to observe from the sidelines? Has this changed since you were a child?"

Romantic Text Messages

Digital Romance: Love Notes for the Modern Era

Instructions for the Husband: In the hustle of daily life, text messages often become purely logistical—"Pick up milk," "I'm running late," "Did you pay the bill?" This section is about reclaiming that digital space for romance. Your task is to send one of these texts to her in the middle of a random Tuesday, with no context other than to make her smile. Later, use the "Biographer's Interview" to explore how she perceives affection and communication. Part 1: The Digital Love Letters (Send these as texts and save her reply)

1. "Have I told you lately that I love you? You fill my heart with gladness and take away the stress of the day. Thank you for being you."

2. "Just as a house cannot stand without a strong foundation, I honestly don't know what I would do without your love. You are my rock."

3. "I was trying to find the words to measure how much I love you today, but I realized it is immeasurable. I love you beyond words."

4. "Ever since you came my way, everything seems brighter. You give me so much to live for. I love you, my dear."

5. "My world is a better place because you are in it. You stole my heart the moment I saw you, and I don't want it back."

6. "I want to give you the world, simply because you have earned it. You deserve the best."

7. "I never knew loving someone could be this intoxicating. Can I love you forever? Because I plan to."

8. "When I feel like I am drowning in the stress of the world, your love is the fresh air I need to breathe. Thank you for being my peace."

9. "There are still fireworks in my head every time you kiss me. Your love is breathtaking."

10. "Your beauty is too glamorous to ignore. You are truly awesome, and I am the lucky one who gets to tell you that."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I sent you a text about you being my 'foundation.' When you were growing up, who was the 'rock' or the foundation of your family? Did you feel stable, or was it chaotic?"

12. "I mentioned that you take away my stress. When you are feeling overwhelmed or 'drowning' in stress, what is the one thing I can do that genuinely helps you take a deep breath?"

13. "I texted you about how 'intoxicating' your love is. What is a 'guilty pleasure' in life (food, show, hobby) that you find totally intoxicating and can't say no to?"

14. "I wrote that I want to give you the world because you 'earned it.' Do you feel like you have to 'earn' love, or do you find it easy to accept affection freely? Where do you think that mindset comes from?"

15. "I mentioned fireworks when we kiss. Be honest: do you remember our very first kiss? Was it fireworks immediately, or was it awkward?"

16. "We communicate so much via text now. If you could save only one handwritten letter or note you have ever received in your life, which one would it be and why?"

17. "I said your love is immeasurable. How do you measure 'success' in your life right now? Is it by happiness, security, faith, or something else?"

Digital Devotion: Affirmations from the Heart

Instructions for the Husband: In a long-term relationship, we often assume our partner knows how we feel. But hearing it—or reading it in the middle of a mundane work day— can change the entire tone of a marriage. These texts are designed to be "random acts of romance." Send one when she least expects it. Later, use the "Biographer's Interview" to unpack the deeper sentiments behind these messages. Part 1: The Heartfelt Texts (Send these randomly throughout the week)

1. "Where did you come from? You must be from heaven because your beauty is not of this world."

2. "No matter what life throws at us, I want you to know: I loved you then, I love you now, and I will love you forever."

3. "How sweet it is to be loved by you. I am truly honored to be the one holding your hand."

4. "I think I love you more than food. And you know how much I love eating, so that is saying a lot!"

5. "I just wanted to pause and say I love you. More than words can describe."

6. "Remember today that I am always in your corner. I am for you, and I am always with you."

7. "I vow to always cherish and love you. That is a promise I will keep forever, [insert her pet name]."

8. "Your smile makes every moment better. It is one of the many reasons I will never stop loving you."

9. "With you, the world just looks brighter. I am blessed to have you in my life."

10. "You make me feel loved and cared for like no one else does. Thank you for being you."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I texted you about you being 'from heaven.' What is your personal idea of 'Heaven on Earth'? Is it a specific vacation spot, a quiet house, or a moment in nature?"

12. "I said, 'I loved you then, and I love you now.' Thinking back to 'then' (when we first met), what is one cringe-worthy fashion choice or hairstyle you had that you hope never comes back?"

13. "I joked that I love you more than food. If you were forced to eat only one meal for the rest of your life, what would it be?"

14. "I mentioned that your smile makes every moment better. What is the last thing that made you laugh so hard you cried?"

15. "I texted you about vows and promises. What is a promise you made to yourself when you were a little girl that you have kept to this day?"

16. "I told you that I am 'always in your corner.' Who was the person who stood in your corner when you were a child? Who defended you or cheered you on?"

17. "I said the world looks beautiful with you in it. If you could change one thing about the world to make it better for the next generation, what would you change?"

18. "I mentioned being 'blessed' to have you. Do you consider yourself a 'lucky' person, or do you believe that we make our own luck through hard work?"

Steady Love: Reassurance & Security

Instructions for the Husband: In a marriage, "proving" your love isn't about grand gestures; it is about consistent reassurance. The texts below are designed to tell her, "I am not going anywhere, and I still choose you." Send these when she is having a hard day or feeling insecure. Afterward, use the "Biographer's Interview" to ask deep questions about her needs, her past, and what makes her feel safe.

Part 1: The Anchors (Send these to make her feel secure)

1. "Life will always be beautiful with you in my world. You are my daily inspiration."

2. "As long as you are happy, I am happy. You are the joy in my day."

3. "You are the most precious person in my life. I vow to cherish you until the end of time."

4. "I want you to know that I love you more today than I did yesterday. You make my life wonderful."

5. "My goal is to make you happier today than you were yesterday. I love you beyond the stars."

6. "When I see you, I am reminded of my 'why.' I work, live, and learn for you. You know I love you, right?"

7. "Life with you is like a favorite song that I never get tired of listening to."

8. "No matter what happens today, I am here for you. I love you more than you can imagine."

9. "So many people have walked in and out of my life, but you are the only one who has left permanent footprints on my heart."

10. "From the moment I laid eyes on you, I knew I wanted to spend the rest of my life acting as your partner. I love you."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I texted you that you are my 'daily inspiration.' Who was the person who inspired you the most when you were growing up? A teacher, a relative, or maybe a fictional character?"

"I mentioned that as long as you are happy, I am happy. But I want to know: What does a 'Perfectly Happy Saturday' look like to you? Walk me through it from the moment you wake up to when you go to sleep."

13. "I said you are the most precious thing I have. If our house was on fire and everyone was safe, what is the one physical object you would run back inside to save?"

14. "I compared our life to a 'sweet melody.' If you could pick one song that instantly transports you back to your teenage years, what song is it and what memory does it trigger?"

15. "I talked about people leaving 'footprints' on your heart. Aside from family, who is one friend or mentor from your past that you have lost touch with but still think about often?"

16. "I mentioned that I 'live and learn' for you. What is one skill or hobby you have always wanted to learn but felt you didn't have the time or courage to try?"

17. "I texted you that I am 'here for you.' In moments of high stress, do you prefer that I offer solutions to fix the problem, or do you prefer that I just sit and listen? How can I support you best?"

"I mentioned the moment I laid eyes on you. Be honest—what was your very first impression of me before we even spoke? Did you think I was your type?"

Verbal Affirmation: The Power of Spoken Love

Instructions for the Husband: It is often said that "actions speak louder than words," but words still hold immense power. A woman never tires of hearing that she is loved, valued, and seen. Use Part 1 to vocalize your feelings—look her in the eye when you say these, or leave them on a sticky note where she will find it. Then, use Part 2 to transition into a conversation about how she views herself and your relationship.

Part 1: The Declarations (Say these to her or write them down)

1. "Just when I thought life couldn't get any better, you walked in. You have elevated everything about my world."

2. "I loved you yesterday, I love you today, and I will love you as long as I have breath in my lungs."

3. "My love for you is the one thing in this life that will not fade. You can rely on that."

4. "Seeing your face is still the best part of my day. It makes me fall in love with you all over again."

5. "There is no one else I would rather do life with. You are my one and only."

6. "My life is full of joy and happiness, and if you trace it back to the source, it all points to you."

7. "To my beautiful, caring, and gorgeous wife: I love you beyond what words can say. Always have, always will."

8. "You have made me a better man and a better partner. I hope you know how much I credit you for my growth."

9. "Thank you for being real with me. I appreciate your authenticity more than you know."

10. "What could be better than a life with you? You fill my days with beautiful things."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I told you that you made me a 'better person.' If you had to describe the biggest change you have seen in me since we first met, what would it be? Is it a good change?"

"I mentioned that I appreciate you 'being real.' In what situations or social settings do you feel like you have to wear a 'mask' or hide who you really are? Where do you feel most free to be yourself?"

13. "I said that seeing your face makes me fall in love again. When you look in the mirror these days, what do you see? Do you see the woman I see, or do you tend to focus on flaws?"

14. "I talked about my love never fading. What is one thing in your life (a hobby, a friendship, a passion) that has remained constant and 'unfading' since you were a teenager?"

15. "I called you my 'one and only.' Do you believe in the concept of 'soulmates'—that there is only one person for everyone—or do you believe love is a choice we make every day?"

16. "I mentioned that life with you is full of 'beautiful things.' What is the most beautiful thing you have ever seen with your own eyes? Was it a place, a piece of art, or a moment?"

17. "I said you bring me joy. What is the one activity you do purely for yourself that brings you the most joy? Not for work, not for the kids, not for me—just for you?"

"We talked about falling in love 'again and again.' What is a specific memory of us that you revisit when you need a reminder of why we fell in love in the first place?"

Unconditional Commitment: The Promise of Forever

Instructions for the Husband: This section moves beyond flirting and into the bedrock of your relationship: commitment. These affirmations are about stability and deep appreciation. Use Part 1 to reassure her of her place in your life. Use Part 2 to dig deeper into her philosophy on life, destiny, and personal growth.

Part 1: The Affirmations (Read these to her or text them)

1. "You have made me the luckiest man in the universe. My goal is to make you the happiest woman on earth."

2. "They say change is the only constant in life. But I want you to know there is one other constant: my love for you."

3. "The moment I saw you, I knew you were the one. That feeling has never changed."

4. "My daily prayer is for the strength to love you the way you deserve to be loved and to treat you like the queen you are."

5. "You deserve to be cherished, adored, and fully loved. I intend to do exactly that for the rest of my life."

6. "Thank you for bringing so much joy into my life. I promise to cherish you until the end of the age."

7. "I could not have wished for a more beautiful, caring, and loving partner. You are a blessing to me."

8. "Meeting you was the starting point for every beautiful thing in my life."

9. "You are the gardener of my life; you make everything bloom. You are the queen of my heart."

10. "You are the best thing that ever happened to me. I cherish every moment we share."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I called myself the 'luckiest man.' Do you believe in luck, or do you believe everything happens for a reason? Looking back at the winding path of your life, do you see it as a series of lucky breaks or a destined journey?"

"I mentioned that change is constant. How do you handle big changes? Do you thrive on new adventures and the unknown, or does change make you anxious? What is the biggest change you have successfully navigated in your life so far?"

13. "I said you deserve to be treated like a queen or a princess. When you were a little girl, what was your favorite fairy tale or story? Did you identify more with the princess, the hero, or the villain?"

14. "I referred to you as the 'gardener' of my life. If your life right now was a literal garden, what is currently blooming, and what feels like it is withering or needs more water and attention?"

15. "I said meeting you was the start of beautiful things. If you could restart or 'do over' one specific year of your life to change the outcome, which year would it be and why? Or would you leave it all exactly as it was?"

16. "I promised to make you the happiest woman on earth. Be honest with me: What is the one thing—big or small—that is currently stealing your happiness or causing you stress that I can help eliminate?"

17. "I spoke about praying for strength to love you well. How can I pray for you right now? What is the heaviest thing on your heart this week?"

"I said you are the best thing that ever happened to me. What is the best surprise that has ever happened to you? A party, a gift, or unexpected news?"

Instructions for the Husband:

Enduring Romance: The Daily Proof

"Proving" your love isn't about grand gestures in a crisis;

it is about the quiet consistency of your affection when things are calm. This section focuses on gratitude and perspective. Send these texts to remind her that you don't just love her—you like her and value her influence on your life. Afterward, use the "Biographer's Interview" to explore her dreams, her perspective on the world, and how she has changed.

Part 1: The Daily Proof (Send these to remind her she is valued)

1. "I always thought a person could only truly fall in love once. But with you, I find myself falling in love all over again, every single day."

2. "Every minute we spend together is a moment I cherish. Thank you for giving me your time."

3. "You are my dream come true. You are my happiness, my love, and my everything."

4. "What could be better than a life with someone as special as you? I am so glad I get to wake up and choose you every morning."

5. "I still don't understand what I did to deserve someone as caring and loving as you, but I thank God for you every day."

6. "Every day is another opportunity to be grateful for the gift of you. You are the best part of my reality."

7. "I want you to know that I am still madly in love with you. I will cherish you forever, [insert pet name]."

8. "I love you more than love itself. It might sound cliché, but it is the honest truth."

9. "With you, I finally understood what it means to love and be loved in return. Thank you for teaching me that."

10. "You help me see things from a better perspective. I love the way you view the world, and I love you."

Instructions for the Husband:

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I texted you about 'falling in love all over again.' When you look back at the woman you were when we first met, and the woman you are now, what is the biggest difference? What is a version of 'you' from the past that you miss?"

"I called you my 'dream come true.' But I want to know about your dreams. If you could snap your fingers and achieve one major life goal or dream instantly without any fear of failure, what would it be?"

13. "I mentioned that I cherish every minute with you. What is a small, mundane moment in our day-to-day life (like having coffee or driving) that you actually cherish more than I realize?"

14. "I said that you help me see things from a better perspective. How do you think we see the world differently? Do you think you are more of an optimist, a realist, or a dreamer compared to me?"

15. "I texted you about being 'madly in love.' What is the craziest, most irrational thing you have ever done for love (whether for me, a past crush, or even a friend)?"

16. "I mentioned that I don't know what I did to 'deserve' you. Do you ever struggle with 'imposter syndrome' in life or work? Do you ever feel like you don't deserve the good things you have, or do you accept them easily?"

17. "I said I am glad to be with you. What is your favorite quality about us as a couple? What is the one thing we do really well together?"

18. "I spoke about understanding what it means to be loved. How did your parents show love to each other? Did you want a marriage like theirs, or did you want something completely different?"

Sweet Devotion: Gratitude and Growth

This section focuses on the concept of "betterment." A good marriage makes both people better. These texts acknowledge that she isn't just a partner, she is a catalyst for your personal growth. Send these when you feel proud of where you are in life, or when you need to thank her for sticking by you. Afterward, use the "Biographer's Interview" to ask about her own growth, her struggles, and her dreams.

Instructions for the Husband:

Part 1: The Gratitude Texts (Send these to acknowledge her impact)

1. "I need nothing more in this world than you. You mean the world to me."

2. "You make me a better man every single day. I will love you forever for that."

3. "Because of you, I feel like I am exactly where I am supposed to be. I am proud of the man I am becoming with you by my side."

4. "There is no mile too long to walk or mountain too high to climb just to show you how much I love you."

5. "Putting a beautiful smile on your face is my top priority. I love you, beautiful."

6. "You were there for me when no one else was. I promise to love you more than you have ever been loved before."

7. "Everything I ever dreamed of in a woman, you have—and even more. You are my dream come true."

8. "You are a daily reminder of how blessed I am. You are my happiness and my joy."

9. "Whenever I am down, your love rejuvenates me. You are my daily motivation."

10. "Only you can make my heart beat this fast. You are the life running through my veins."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I told you that you make me a better person. In what specific area of your life do you feel you have grown the most in the last five years? Are you more patient, more confident, or more faithful?"

12. "I said that because of you, I am where I am supposed to be. Do you feel like you are where you are supposed to be in life right now? Or do you feel like you are waiting for the next chapter to start?"

Instructions for the Husband:

13. "I mentioned climbing mountains for you. What is the most physically challenging thing you have ever done in your life? A hike, a race, childbirth, or something else?"

14. "I said that you were there for me when no one else was. Tell me about a time in your life when you felt truly alone. How did you get through it?"

15. "I texted you that you are my motivation. Who or what motivates you to keep going on the days when you just want to stay in bed?"

16. "I mentioned that you have everything I dreamed of. When you were a little girl dreaming about your future husband, what was the one quality you decided was non-negotiable? Did I meet that requirement?"

17. "I said you make my heart beat faster. What is something that gives you an adrenaline rush? Roller coasters, public speaking, or watching a scary movie?"

18. "I talked about your smile being my priority. What is the one compliment you receive from people that always makes you smile the biggest? Is it about your looks, your intelligence, or your cooking?"

Instructions for the Husband:

Devotion & Destiny: The Long View

In the early days of dating, you text to confess feelings. In marriage, you text to confirm them. This section is about assuring her that you are in this for the long haul. These messages focus on the future, stability, and the "us against the world" mentality. Send these when you want her to feel safe and cherished. Afterward, use the "Biographer's Interview" to ask about her vision for the future and her definition of a good life.

Part 1: The Forever Texts (Send these to reaffirm your commitment)

1. "For you, there is no storm too strong to weather. I would walk through anything just to be with you."

2. "You are the best partner I could ever ask for. I would be a fool not to cherish you every single day."

3. "When I look at you, I see a future that is beautiful and amazing. Thank you for building this life with me."

4. "You are the queen of my heart, my woman, and my everything. I hope you know how deeply I love you."

5. "You make me whole. I truly cannot imagine my life without you in it."

6. "I am totally in love with the most beautiful, caring, and loving woman in the universe—you."

7. "My only goal today is to make you happier than you were yesterday. Seeing you smile is what matters most."

8. "Everything I do, I do for you. Without you, I would be incomplete."

9. "Whenever I look at you, I see a life full of happiness, joy, and prosperity. You are my good luck charm."

10. "I am so glad to be with you. I will spend the rest of my life showing you—not just telling you—how much I love you."

Instructions for the Husband:

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I texted you that there is no storm I wouldn't weather for you. Looking back at your life before you met me, what was the hardest 'storm' you had to walk through alone, and how did it change you?"

12."I mentioned seeing a beautiful future with you. Close your eyes and imagine us twenty years from now. Where are we living? What are we doing on a Tuesday morning?"

13. "I called you the 'Queen of my heart.' Every queen needs a castle. If you could build your dream house anywhere in the world, regardless of cost, where would it be and what would the view look like?"

14. "I said you make me whole. Do you believe that two people 'complete' each other, or do you think two whole people come together to make something new? How has your view on this changed since we got married?"

15. "I wrote that without you, I am incomplete. What is a part of your personality or a talent you have that you feel is currently 'incomplete' or dormant that you would like to wake up?"

16. "I mentioned a life of prosperity. How do you define 'wealth' right now? Is it money in the bank, a house full of family, or the freedom to do what you want with your time?"

17. "I promised to show you I love you, not just tell you. What is one specific action I have done in the past that made you feel more loved than any words I could have spoken?"

18. "I called you the best partner I could ask for. What is one trait you saw in your own mother or a female mentor that you consciously tried to adopt in your own life as a woman?"

Deep Appreciation: The Impact of You

Instructions for the Husband: We often tell our wives that we love them, but we rarely articulate why their presence matters so much. This section is about acknowledging her impact on your identity and your world. Send these texts to validate her significance in your life. Afterward, use the "Biographer's Interview" to ask questions about her own sense of self, her wishes, and her view of the world.

Part 1: The Impact Statements (Send these to validate her)

1. "My world is beautiful simply because you are in it. You add color to my life."

2. "Thank you for being in my life. You are all I ever needed, and I will always cherish you."

3. "You made me the happiest man on earth the moment you came into my life. My goal is to make you the happiest woman in the universe."

4. "My love for you will never fade with time; rather, I feel it blossoming more each day."

5. "You are not just my partner; you are the person I want to spend forever with. I choose you, again and again."

6. "You love me like no one else does. Thank you for filling my life with kindness and happiness."

7. "Without you, I might be just like every other guy out there. But with you, I am a better man. You elevate me."

8. "I feel like I won the lottery. I get to wake up next to the most beautiful, caring, and loving woman in the world."

9. "Thank you for all the joy and happiness that comes with having someone as special as you are. I don't take it for granted."

10. "I could not wish for a more caring, loving, and understanding person than you.

Thank you for being real with me."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

11. "I texted you that my world is beautiful because you are in it. When you look at the world around us, what is the one thing—in nature, art, or humanity—that you find the most undeniably beautiful?"

12."I mentioned that my love for you 'blossoms' rather than fades. How do you feel about getting older? Do you view it as 'fading,' or do you feel like you are blossoming into a more confident version of yourself?"

13. "I said you are 'all I ever needed.' When you think about your own needs right now—emotional, physical, or spiritual—what is the one thing you feel you are currently lacking or need more of?"

14. "I told you that you made me a better man. Be honest: What is one habit or trait of mine that I had when we first met that you are so glad I finally grew out of?"

15. "I mentioned that you are 'real.' In a world full of social media filters and fake personalities, what does 'being real' mean to you? Who is the most authentic person you know besides yourself?"

16. "I joked about 'winning the lottery' with you. If we actually won the lottery tomorrow—a massive amount—what is the very first selfish thing you would buy just for you? (No paying off bills allowed for this answer!)"

17. "I praised you for being 'understanding.' Who was the person in your childhood who understood you the best? Did you have a confidant growing up?"

18. "I spoke about spending 'forever' with you. If you could live forever at one specific age—stopping the clock physically—what age would you choose to be and why?"

Timeless Adoration: The Gift of You

Instructions for the Husband: This final section of the "texting" window focuses on gratitude and the concept of "grace"—receiving something wonderful that you didn't necessarily earn. These messages are about humility and recognizing her value. Send these when you are feeling reflective. Afterward, use the "Biographer's Interview" to close out this chapter by discussing purpose, nourishment, and what truly matters to her.

Part 1: The Humble Heart (Send these to show appreciation)

1. "The most beautiful gift I ever received was you. They say gifts are often given to us even when we don't deserve them, and I certainly feel like I won the lottery with you."

2. "From the depth of my heart, I want you to know: I loved you then, I love you now, and I will love you until the end of time."

3. "Before you, my world felt incomplete—like a puzzle missing the center piece. Thank you for walking into my life and giving it new meaning."

4. "If you were a flower, I would never stop watering you with my love and attention. I want to see you bloom every single day."

5. "One moment in your arms is better than a thousand moments anywhere else. You are my sanctuary."

Part 2: The Biographer's Interview (Questions to ask her)

6. "I called you a 'gift' that I didn't deserve. Be honest: Do you find it easy to accept gifts and compliments, or do you tend to deflect them? Where do you think that hesitation comes from?"

7. "I mentioned that you gave my life meaning. Apart from our relationship and family, what is one passion, hobby, or cause that gives your life a deep sense of purpose right now?"

8. "I used the metaphor of watering a flower. In a practical sense, what makes you feel the most 'nourished' emotionally? Is it quiet time alone, social time with friends, or creative work?"

9. "I said that being in your arms is better than anywhere else. When you need to escape the noise of the world and recharge, where is your 'happy place'? Is it a physical room, a nature spot, or just a state of mind?"

10."I spoke about loving you until the end of time. If we knew the world was ending in 24 hours, how would you want to spend our last day together? What would we eat, and what would we talk about?"

11. "I mentioned 'unconditional love.' Do you believe love is truly unconditional, or do you believe it requires mutual work to survive? How has your definition of love changed since we stood at the altar?"

Intimacy, Desire & The Language of Touch

1. If you could describe your "perfect" romantic evening that leads to intimacy, stepby-step, what would it look like?

2. What is the one thing I do—outside of the bedroom—that makes you feel the most connected to me sexually?

3. When you look back at our entire relationship, what is the single best sexual memory you have of us? What made it so good?

4. Do you feel that you need to feel emotionally connected to get physically aroused, or does physical arousal help you feel emotionally connected?

5. What is the biggest "killer" of your desire? (e.g., stress, a messy house, feeling unheard, fatigue).

6. If you could change one thing about our current rhythm or routine regarding intimacy, what would it be?

7. How do you feel about your own body right now? Do you feel confident, or are there insecurities that hold you back?

8. What is something I used to do when we were dating or newlyweds to seduce you that I have stopped doing?

9. When I initiate intimacy, what is the best way for me to approach you? (Words, touch, a look, a text during the day?)

10. Conversely, what is the worst way for me to initiate that almost guarantees a "no"?

11. Is there a specific time of day where you feel most open to intimacy, and a time where it is absolutely off the table?

12. Do you wish I would take more control in the bedroom, or do you prefer it when we are gentle and equal?

13. What is a specific part of your body that you wish I would pay more attention to?

14. Is there a romantic fantasy you have always had but have been too shy or embarrassed to tell me about?

15. How important is non-sexual touch (holding hands, hugging, cuddling) to your overall desire for sex?

16.When you are not in the mood, how can I accept your "no" in a way that makes you feel safe and respected rather than guilty?

17. What is the one thing I do during intimacy that you absolutely love and want me to do more of?

18. Is there anything we do currently that you don't actually enjoy, but you do it just for me?

19. Do you like it when we talk during intimacy, or do you prefer silence and focus?

20. How has your view of sex changed since we first got married?

21. What song or type of music do you find the most romantic or sensual?

22. If we could go away for a weekend specifically to reconnect physically, where would we go and what would the vibe be?

23. Do you feel comfortable initiating sex, or do you prefer that role to stay with me?

Why?

24. What makes you feel the most beautiful?

25. After we are intimate, what do you need from me to feel cherished? (Cuddling, talking, sleeping, water?)

26. What is a myth about female desire that you think men believe, but is totally false for you?

27. If you could rate our current level of intimacy on a scale of 1 to 10, what is it, and what would it take to bump it up one point?

28. Does reading romantic books or watching romantic movies help your desire, or does it set unrealistic expectations?

29. If I wanted to surprise you with lingerie, what style makes you feel sexy rather than silly?

30. What is the one question about sex you wish I would ask you, but I never have?

Conclusion: The Unfinished Masterpiece

You have reached the final page of this book, but if you have done your job well, you have barely scratched the surface of the woman sitting across from you.

When you began this journey, the goal was to become her biographer—to ask the questions that had gone unasked and to record the stories that were in danger of being forgotten. You have laughed over "Wild Card" questions, debated over "Hypotheticals," and perhaps shed a tear during the "Deep Dive." You have gathered data, you have cataloged memories, and you have likely filled pages with notes.

But here is the most important truth to take with you: A biography of a living person is never finished.

The woman you love is not a statue; she is a river. She is constantly moving, shifting, and reshaping the landscape around her. The answers she gave you in Chapter 3 regarding her fears might look completely different five years from now. The dreams she shared in Chapter 2 may evolve as your family grows or as her career shifts. The way she defines "romance" in Chapter 14 will likely mature as the seasons of your life change.

If you treat this book as a checklist that you have now completed, you will miss the point entirely. This book was never just about the questions; it was about the pursuit.

The Biographer's Commitment

1. Revisit the Records: Years from now, open the notes you took during these conversations. Read her answers back to her. Say, "Do you remember when you said your biggest fear was public speaking? Is that still true?" Show her that you were listening then, and show her that you are still curious now.

2. Date Your Entries: As you continue to talk, record the dates. There is nothing more powerful than being able to look back and see exactly where her heart was on a specific date in history. It creates a timeline of her soul that your children and grandchildren may one day cherish.

3. Keep Asking: You now have the tools. You know how to pivot from a "How was your day?" dead-end to a "What made you smile today?" conversation starter. Use these tools daily. Never assume you know everything there is to know about her.

The Final Challenge

The greatest gift you can give your wife is not a house, a car, or a vacation. It is the gift of being known. In a world that is distracted, busy, and loud, you have chosen to slow down, look her in the eye, and listen.

You have proven that she is worth studying. You have proven that her story is worth writing down.

Do not put the pen down just yet. Turn the page to a blank sheet, look at her, and ask: "So, what is on your mind today?"

Available on Archive.org

(Free: No Email Signup, Anonymous Download)

This groundbreaking four-book Christian romance series pioneers a completely new subgenre never before charted in human history. It delivers truly adult erotica while strictly maintaining that couples wait for marriage before sexual intercourse. By masterfully blending breathtaking, high-heat sensual intimacy with absolute holy restraint, these novels uniquely shatter both the rigidness of conservative Christian purity culture and the toxicity of the secular world's hookup culture:

Series Introduction: A New Era of Intimacy

Welcome to a new frontier in Christian books. For years, men and women have been forced to walk through a modern wasteland, handed the wrong maps for dating and marriage. You have likely seen two dangerous paths: the strict rules that treat all touch as shameful, or the hookup culture that takes the honor out of love. This series walks a path that has never been shown before. It blends deep, burning closeness with holy self-control.

Many couples spend thousands of dollars and many hours seeking marriage help. They often sit in cold rooms and hear plain, dry advice from guides who do not see the God-given way our bodies work. The usual ways of helping couples often miss the pain of needing touch and the biblical command to care for one another.

When you read this work, you step away from the cold feel of an office. This work is a gift. It costs nothing. Yet, this is not just reading for fun. It will change how you look at yourself, your partner, and your bonds with others forever. It took months to write and pulls from years of work helping couples. Please do not miss out on what it offers. You get a full path to follow at your own speed. You are walking into a safe place. Here, behind closed doors, you can heal, learn, and grow in peace.

The base of this journey is the guidebook, The Garden Enclosed: A Guide to Marriage Intimacy, which means the deep, private closeness shared in marriage. It lays out the old, holy, and natural ways of human touch. It teaches the lost art of the long, loving massage, showing how gentle touch can calm a hungry soul.

The stories in this series show how that plan works in real life. Whether these characters face the stress of school, the pull of the nightlife, or the hard times of a long marriage, these stories show what it truly looks like to honor the borders God set.

You will see good men and true women practice holy self-control, waiting for the marriage bed before they share the final act of love. Yet you will also see the breathtaking truth of how adults can be close and still stay pure. Yes, men: it is not only okay to look at a woman and touch her, you should. It is a natural part of bonding with her.

In the modern age of dating, couples need physical closeness to grow, but they must do so without crossing the borders of her enclosed garden. These characters do not hide from their nature. They talk about their deepest needs and freely care for one another, showing that true passion needs the safety, trust, and lasting promise of marriage. In this series, the women remove their clothes and feel high heat, while the men remain clothed and practice holy self-control. Practicing this for months while dating prepares them for a lifetime of high-heat romance after marriage.

Read the guide to build the base. Read the stories to feel the fire. Welcome to the garden.
